ASRS Board of Trustees to meet in Tucson

The Arizona State Retirement System Board of Trustees will hold its next public meeting at the Tucson Hilton East on Friday, March 19, and is extending a special invitation to active members, employer representatives and retirees.

Designed to provide an update on the status of the agency and the fund, the Board has scheduled several informational items on its agenda.

“This will be a special opportunity for our members and retirees in southern Arizona to learn more about their retirement system,” ASRS Director Paul Matson said. “There will be special presentations, and a chance for members to meet their Board representatives and executive staff. As with all our public meetings, members will also have the opportunity to address the Board.”

The nine-member Board of Trustees meets monthly. Each year, the Board conducts meetings in the northern and southern portions of the state as part of its commitment to be available to our members state-wide.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m., at the Hilton Tucson East, 7600 E. Broadway Blvd. The hotel is located just west of the ASRS Tucson office and offers meeting facilities that will accommodate a larger audience.

Agenda topics include an overview of ASRS services & benefits, an update on current and future legislation and a presentation on ASRS assets and investments.

The meeting is open to the public and members and retirees are especially encouraged to attend.

Agendas, schedules and minutes of meetings are posted on the ASRS website at www.asrs.state.az.us
